Donations Needed

The Department of Community Services is organizing its family movie program and summer concert series held annually in the Park. Each year many people take advantage of the free entertainment while enjoying a summer evening with their families. Picnic suppers and children playing are a common sight on Wednesday evenings while music floats through the air during the concerts. Popcorn, soda, pillows and bug spray are the fare for moviegoers on Mondays.

Both programs are centered around the park's bandstand. DCS programs are self-supporting, but due to the nature of the movie and concert program, donations have been necessary in order to continue them. Each year fewer businesses donate to the program while others reduce their gifts. While the department appreciates any amount contributed, additional donations are needed from those who may not have been aware of this program's need. All donations are tax deductible and should be made out to the Town of Andover. Contributors may remain anonymous or choose to receive publicity by appearing on a poster.

This summer's park program begins the week of July and includes the following films: Beetlejuice, An American Tail, Cinderella, Snoopy Come Home, Rumplestiltskin and Harry and the Hendersons.

Workshop Scheduled

A hands-on workshop for children in grades 3 through 6 will be held Wednesday, April 19, from 9 a.m. to noon at the Museum of American Textile History, 800 Massachusetts Avenue, North Andover. The children will pick, card, spin and weave on their own handmade looms.

The workshop is limited to 20 children. Reservations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

For further information or to make a reservation, call the museum.

Librarian Addresses Bancroft PTO

Andover librarian Glenda Schaaake will speak at Bancroft Elementary School's next Parent-Teacher Organization board meeting on Thursday, April 6. Schaaake, representing Memorial Hall Library's Answers program, will speak to parents about summer programs for children in Andover and surrounding towns.

She will begin her talk at 7:45 p.m.

in the Bancroft teacher's room. Everyone is invited.

In other school news, Bancroft sweatshirt sales remain brisk, according to sale organizers. The color choices of navy or gray for sweatshirts and sweatpants make the Bancroft logo stand out. Get your order in by March 31 and show your school pride.

PAC Holds Pre-Prom Fund-Raiser

The Andover High School Parent Advisory Council will sponsor an art auction on Saturday, April 8, at 7 p.m., to raise funds for a pre-prom promenade. The Miter-Biter Art Gallery in Melrose will be working in conjunction with PAC members.

The auction will be held in the J. Everett Collins Center. Refreshments will be served during the previewing of the art from 7 to 8 p.m.

Parker River Walk

The Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club invites the public to join a walk through the Parker River Wildlife Refuge on Sunday, April 2. The walk will include the Plum Island state and Hellcat Swamp trails. Meet at 1:30 p.m. at the first parking lot on the left beyond the entrance to the sanctuary on Plum Island. For further information, call Ted and Nancy Smethurst.

IRS Center Not Closing

"The Andover Service Center will not be closing and is not relocating," said Director Thomas M. Quinn in response to rumors that have resulted from the recent furloughing of seasonal employees. "Hiring and furloughing seasonal employees is how the IRS handles the processing of returns filed with us and every other IRS Service Center around the country," he said.

Seasonal employees are hired on an as-needed basis. Seasonal employees may be furloughed when workloads vary. "We have been very fortunate this year in that we were able to hire back many employees who had worked for us in previous filing seasons," Quinn said. This has resulted in the employees working faster and with fewer errors.

For this filing season, the IRS redistributed the workload of its service centers throughout the country. The Andover Service Center, which received tax returns from the St. Paul district, is no longer doing so. However, the service center is still receiving returns at relatively the same rate as last year and is right on target with its projections.

Business Workshop Saturday

The Small Business Administration-sponsored pre-business workshop for this area will be held at the Lawrence Public Library, 51 Lawrence St., Saturday, April 1, from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The workshop is presented by the Service Corps of Retired Executives for men and women who recently started businesses or are considering starting businesses and will cover such subjects as financing, marketing and advertising, legal considerations and recordkeeping. Participants will learn to recognize whether or not they are ready to start a business and be made aware of some of the success and failure factors of running a business.

A registration fee covers all instructional material and refreshments. SCORE counselors will distribute information kits and discuss specific problems people may have in starting or running their business.

BABY TALK

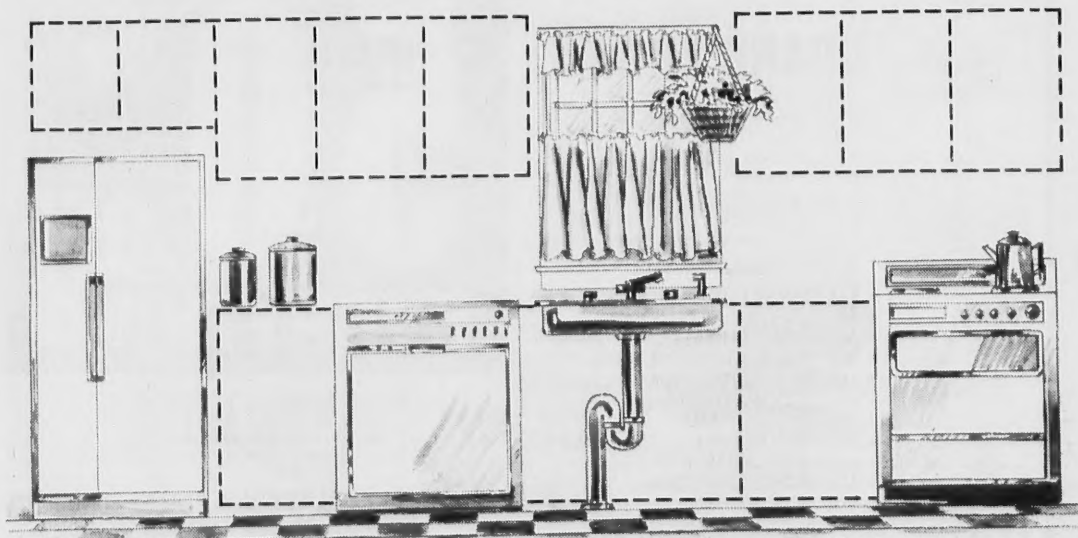

by Jack Resnick

The arrangement of the baby's room is determined by the furniture and the space available. Outside circumstances limit you in some ways, but you should try to make the best area for the baby you can. This will cause the least disruption of your family routine. A calm, relatively quiet area should be chosen if the baby doesn't have a separate room. The room should be well ventilated and well lighted. The temperature should be between 67 and 70 degrees. Arranging the baby's room should not be a difficult problem. Consider your needs, your daily routine, and what is available for your use.

You will find all of your baby needs in stock at TINY TOTLAND. Simmons, Childcraft, Bassett & Morigeaux are available. Lay-away plan at no additional charge. Open 9:30 Mon. & Th. 9-9. IF YOU ARE A HOMEOWNER, OUR EQUITY CREDITLINE IS THE ONLY SMART WAY TO BORROW.

HOW THE 1986 TAX REFORM ACT REDUCES YOUR TAXABLE INCOME.*

Non-mortgage consumer loan			Andover Bank Equity Creditline
Year	Tax deductibility	Reduction in taxable income	Reduction in taxable income	Benefits of Equity Creditline
1989	20%	300	1500	1200
1990	10%	150	1500	1350
1991	0	0	1500	1500

*Sample $15,000 loan at 10% annual percentage rate; chart refers to deductibility of interest. Actual rates may vary.

As of now, interest on an Andover Bank Equity Creditline up to $100,000 is fully tax deductible and the money may be used for any purchase or expense. For homeowners, that's the biggest news since the 1986 Tax Reform Act itself, because your Andover Bank Equity Creditline can be used for major purchases like a new car, college education, a dream vacation, or for unforeseen medical expenses—anything you wish. Most important of all, interest payments are fully deductible.

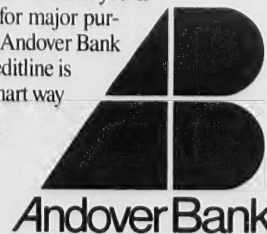

The chart above shows how a hypothetical consumer loan of $15,000 at an annual percentage rate (APR) of 10% will eventually generate no tax deduction at all. The same amount at the same 10% APR applied to an Andover Bank Equity Creditline may lower your taxable income by $1500 each year as long as you meet IRS requirements. Actual APR may vary.

But perhaps the most sensible reason to take advantage of an Andover Bank Equity Creditline is our Fixed Rate Conversion feature. It allows you to move to a fixed rate, which protects you from rising interest rates. It also enables you to segregate equity funds used for specific purposes. In an era of rising interest rates, Fixed Rate Conversion capability could save you a great deal of money.

Of course, an Andover Bank Equity Creditline requires no application fees or legal fees, and our repayment plans are flexible to fit your unique situation. For more information on how to use our Equity Creditline as well as additional details on the new Fixed Rate Conversion feature, call or visit one of our eight convenient Merrimack Valley offices soon. We think you'll agree that for major purchases, an Andover Bank Equity Creditline is the only smart way to borrow.

Recycling Saved $6,000

By Virginia Cole

During the month of February, $6,745.05 was saved from the expenses of tipping trash into the incinerator. This is just the savings from paper recycling. Unfortunately, we do not know the tonnage saved from glass and plastic recycling, but each month a large trailer truck takes away our saved plastic at the end of a four-hour collection. When the permanent collection spot can be obtained and contracts worked out, we will have a better look at an additional savings to the town.

Each of you can tell from your own smaller number of trash bags each week what the town is doing. This is one expense that should be going down.

Ever since the environmental reawakening that took place on Earth Day in 1970, communities all over the United States, by fits and starts, have been working towards better waste management. There is the word we need. It includes waste acquisition and waste disposal and we have to look at it both ways. I feel I am giving a crash course in waste management by reading papers from all over the country and trying to bring the high points to your attention.

Today we can start with Linda Weltner and the Boston Globe. I almost thought I had written it myself. She made four points: 1. avoid products packaged in plastic; 2. reuse everything; 3. try cloth instead of paper; napkins, towels, diapers; 4. educate yourself on what to do and why. She and a friend unwrapped their meats and vegetables from the styrofoam trays at the grocery checkout counter and asked the clerks to please use them again.

We are lucky in Andover, our styrofoam can be recycled. Save it, you won't have to do it at the grocery store; but, remember to bring it to the bin on April 15.

Plastics pose special problems when incinerated. All those you do not recycle will be incinerated. Chlorine is used in most plastic manufacture and it may be contributing to the hydrochloric acid and dioxins found in the emissions from incinerators. That is our share of acid rain. Some incinerators are equipped to remove dioxins before they go up the stack. Instead they go into the fly ash and bottom ash that is left after incineration. Fly ash is taken from the pollution control devices in the stack; 10 percent of that must be disposed of. Ninety percent is bottom ash removed from the combustion chambers.

Some environmental groups are targeting this ash as a hazardous substance which will need special handling for disposal. Now ash from our incinerator is buried in a regular landfill just waiting for rain to wash through it and cleanse it, but cleanse it by washing the pollutants into the ground water. So, we will need hazardous waste landfills. In your backyard? The experts say the cost of these will be 10 times the cost of the ones used now.

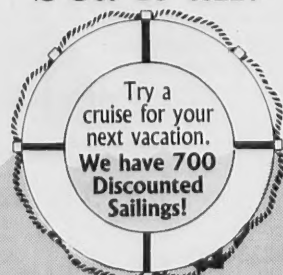

Soon there will be publicity about Hazardous Waste Cleanup Day in Andover. Try to clean out your cellars and garages of all paint, oil, etc. We can't get at the ash in the bottom of the pit at the incinerator, but we can clean our own house.

SURPRISE! UNCLE SAM DIDN'T MESS WITH THE 2 BEST REASONS TO HAVE AN ANDOVER BANK IRA.

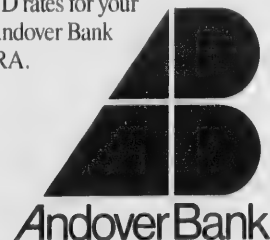

We believe that FDIC/DIFM insurance protection is one of the most important features of an Andover Bank IRA. Your investment, no matter how large, is safe and secure. And is not at the mercy of stock market fluctuations. Thanks, Uncle Sam.

You should also know that interest earned on your Andover Bank IRA is completely tax-deferred. That means you won't have to square accounts with the IRS until you retire—when you'll probably be taxed at a much lower rate. Thanks again, Uncle.

Although Uncle Sam did mess with your ability to use IRA contributions as a tax deduction, you and your family may still qualify for a tax deduction if you open or add to an Andover Bank IRA. We've been banking leaders in the Merrimack Valley for over 150 years, and we want to make sure our neighbors have an opportunity to take advantage of tax breaks. To open or add to your IRA, to find out about tax implications, or to transfer an existing IRA to Andover Bank, stop in any of our eight convenient offices. And when you do, be sure to ask about our special CD rates for your Andover Bank IRA.

ABOUT OUR PEOPLE

AHS Band Director Brings Love Of Music To School

By Amy K. Morrissey

Marc Keroack reclines in his office chair. Thin walls separate him from the bustle of the band room next door. Yet even in this hideaway, Keroack is not alone. Photographs of students playing saxophones, all victorious smiles direct from state competitions, and "mad about music" bumperstickers plaster the walls. Andover High School's band director is truly devoted to teaching.

Keroack's arrival at AHS in 1984 was the start of a new era in music teaching. "When I became band director, I demanded commitment from the kids," he said. "I lost a few bodies, but the band has improved as a result."

Behind the bearded face leading the high school's marching, concert and jazz bands is a man with a life history in music.

Not surprisingly, he got an early start. "My first musical experience was when I was 5, maybe even 4. My aunt was babysitting me, and she taught me how to play the piano...but that didn't last!"

Aside from a few musical stints, Keroack didn't play again until his freshman year at Manchester, N.H., Memorial High School. "All my friends were joining the high school band. I intended to play the saxophone, but the band needed trombonists and offered me free lessons. Everyone was way ahead of me; I had to work to catch up."

Keroack's career choice also came early. "As a sophomore in high school, I knew that I wanted a career in either foreign languages or music—I had a knack for both."

He credits his high school band director for his decision to follow a musical career path. "He was a true role model to me," Keroack says.

With a musical occupation in mind, Keroack set off to the University of New Hampshire, where he earned his bachelor of science degree in music education. Music became all-consuming for Keroack as a college student. He was involved with the wind ensemble and marching and jazz bands for four years and in the school's orchestra and men's chorus for two.

After college, Keroack played professionally for a year. "I wanted to teach, but teaching jobs were plentiful, and playing in a band was once in a lifetime," he said. He joined a band called Spectra, which he described as "a Blood, Sweat, and Tears-type jazz/rock band with brass and voices." Keroack said Spectra opened for Janis Joplin, the Doors, Fifth Dimension and the Beach Boys. "Meeting those people was an unusual experience," he said in a characteristic understatement.

Playing in a band gave Keroack a lifetime love of music. "I like any music that is played well. I'm not wild about heavy metal, new age, new wave, punk or country/Western, but I can enjoy any great musician's work for a period of time."

"When music is played correctly, it's an emotional experience. A composition may convey happiness, depression, excitement. There's no one quality that defines well-played music. The genius is in its expression."

What does Keroack consider his greatest musical achievement?

"I value my work as a conductor most. You can't separate playing music and directing it; they're both musical achievements."

"As far as actually playing an instrument, I did a Bach Mass in B minor with the Melrose Symphony three years ago. The Mass in B minor is a wonderful work, and it's unusual to use the trombone. I had a significant solo and felt more challenged than I have since I was a beginner."

Desiring to learn more about music, Keroack returned to UNH for his master's in musical history. "A degree like this gave me a better teaching approach. I got a wider historical vantage point, helping me relate to a more diverse range of musical styles."

With a master's, Keroack could secure a long-term teaching position. He got a job as band director at Somerville High School in 1972, but left in '84 because he said the system's reorganization would ruin the music program. "Support received from the faculty and the community's attitudes are what either launch or kill a music program," he said. "With junior high and elementary school mixed (in Somerville), I foresaw the end of an effective music program."

When Keroack came to Andover in '84, the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts had just opened and the music program was on the rise. Keroack took over for Allan Minkinen, who had previously been responsible for the elementary, junior high and high school music programs.

Keroack noticed a sharp contrast between the band programs in Somerville and Andover. "Somerville lacks the finances for an effective band program, whereas Andover has the financial support. But Andover has its own problems. There is such pressure for Andover kids to be perfect well-rounded students. That means sports and acceptance into a good college, as well as band. The pressures and problems are different, but they exist in both places."

Keroack determines a student's level of commitment in a less than traditional way. "There are playing tests to determine a young musician's progress. More importantly, I can tell if students care by their facial expressions during rehearsal. Is there something going on in their heads, or are they simply going through the motions?"

Keroack emphasizes the contrast between teaching music and teaching academics. "There's more teacher-student interaction as a band director. I am both more and less flexible at the same time. On the one hand, I joke with my students more. The flip side is when I force my students to buckle down the week before a performance."

Apparently, his methods work. "Last year was (the band's) best year," he said. "The quality of the band was tremendous. It was the culmination of years of effort. The recognition we received was incredible. Sometimes things just come together for a band."

In the school year '88 to '89 the marching, concert and jazz bands all won significant awards. The marching band entered a competition sponsored by the New England Scholastic Band Association, of which Keroack is president and co-founder. The band received first place, as well as awards for best music and best percussion.

The young jazz musicians held their own by tying for second place in the state finals of the Massachusetts Association for Jazz Education competition. Most significantly, the concert band won a gold medal at the state competition for the Massachusetts Instrumental Conductors Association.

"Winning the gold medal was thrilling. Concert band is tough. I've never entered a band in MICA before. We were in Never-Never Land."

Keroack hastened to add that a band's merit cannot be judged by the number of medals it has won. "A band may achieve a private victory, but if their piece is not just so with the judges, they won't receive a gold medal," he said. "If it was up to me, AHS would receive a gold on countless occasions. Unfortunately, outsiders can't see the

Oliver-West Stuns North Andover-Bruce In Bowl

Veteran's Memorial Auditorium at North Andover Middle School was the setting for perhaps the most exciting match in the three-year history of the Greater Lawrence Collaborative Middle School Academic Bowl.

Oliver-West made an amazing comeback to defeat North Andover-Bruce. The score was 720-660.

The Oliver-West team defeated Kane-East and North Andover-Bruce defeated Leonard-Georgetown last week for both combatants to come into this match as the only undefeated teams in the tournament. Add to this that in last year's tournament, West was teamed with Bruce and North Andover was teamed with Oliver and Richard Neal, principal of North Andover Middle School, is a former assistant and acting principal of West Middle and a member of the Andover School Committee, and you come up with the formula for a spirited contest.

Neal, after delivering an early morning phone call to friend and colleague William Hart, West principal, had the auditorium packed with screaming North Andover students as the Oliver-West team took their seats on the stage. North Andover-Bruce took a commanding lead (150 points) by the end of the first quarter.

However, near the end of the round, Ben Mazin gave Oliver-West some respectability and prevented the score from being out of reach. The score at the end of round one stood North Andover-Bruce 270, Oliver-West 120.

The crowd and North Andover-Bruce were stunned in the second period as Tadg Corkery led an unbelievable comeback for Oliver-West. Corkery, Sarah Brown, Melissa Scharn, Woody Sankar, Phil Maymin and Freddie Kasson answered questions correctly on geography of Soviet Asia, mythology, U.S. presidents and Massachusetts' geography. Maymin quickly and flawlessly solved mathematical calculations involving fractions in his head. At the end of the period Oliver-West had made up 105 points and trailed North Andover-Bruce 385-340.

Quizmaster Jim McConaughy had his hands full in the third period as North Andover-Bruce rebounded and the match became very competitive. Both teams were quick on the buzzer, and the crowd responded with positive support for all correct answers to both teams. For Oliver-West, Adam Smith, Lorena Gonzales, Vivian Ramy and Chad Murphy responded well to the pressure, and Tony Santos came up with some key responses to eventually close the gap by 20 points going into the final part of the round, involving matching former Massachusetts governors to the dates they were in office and other tidbits about their terms. Jeff Forlizzi led Oliver-West to unscramble this information and at the end of the third round the score was only 535 to 505 in favor of North Andover-Bruce.

The excitement continued into the fourth period as Brendan Blouin and Mark Sabath led the charge with vital support from Sean McKeon, Keyra Reyes, David Lai and Smita Malpani as Oliver-West answered three quick questions to tie the score. The score seesawed Oliver-West pulled away with correct answers to questions on the U.S. Constitution to ensure the victory and make the matching portion of the round a formality.

Shops Host School Expo

Downtown Andover shops and businesses are turning into showcases for three days next month.

Partners in Pride Exposition, a cooperative venture between the Andover Merchants' Association and the school system, will take place from April 6 to 8.

The educational accomplishments of Andover students will be displayed in various forms throughout the center of town. Exhibits will be showcased along with various demonstrations by groups of students.

"Students participating this spring will benefit by being exposed to a highly visible educational arena," said David Nichols, co-coordinator of the event and an Andover adaptive physical education teacher. The expo is being endorsed by the Andover Merchants' Center Association, the Andover school department and the Andover Education Association, added Walter Rossini, co-coordinator and West Middle School sixth-grade teacher.

"Students, teachers and merchants in Andover are looking forward to what should be a very successful event," Nichols said. "Hopefully, the Andover community will be able to observe the many quality programs that exist in our schools today."

Rossini said those program will include book reports on American presidents, Chinese new year prints, math projects, posters and exhibits about the children's economy, "Voyage of the Mimi" units and various interdisciplinary projects.

A Paidea seminar will be conducted at the library, and videotapes on the school system's nutrition and computer programs will be running throughout the exposition.

Camera Club

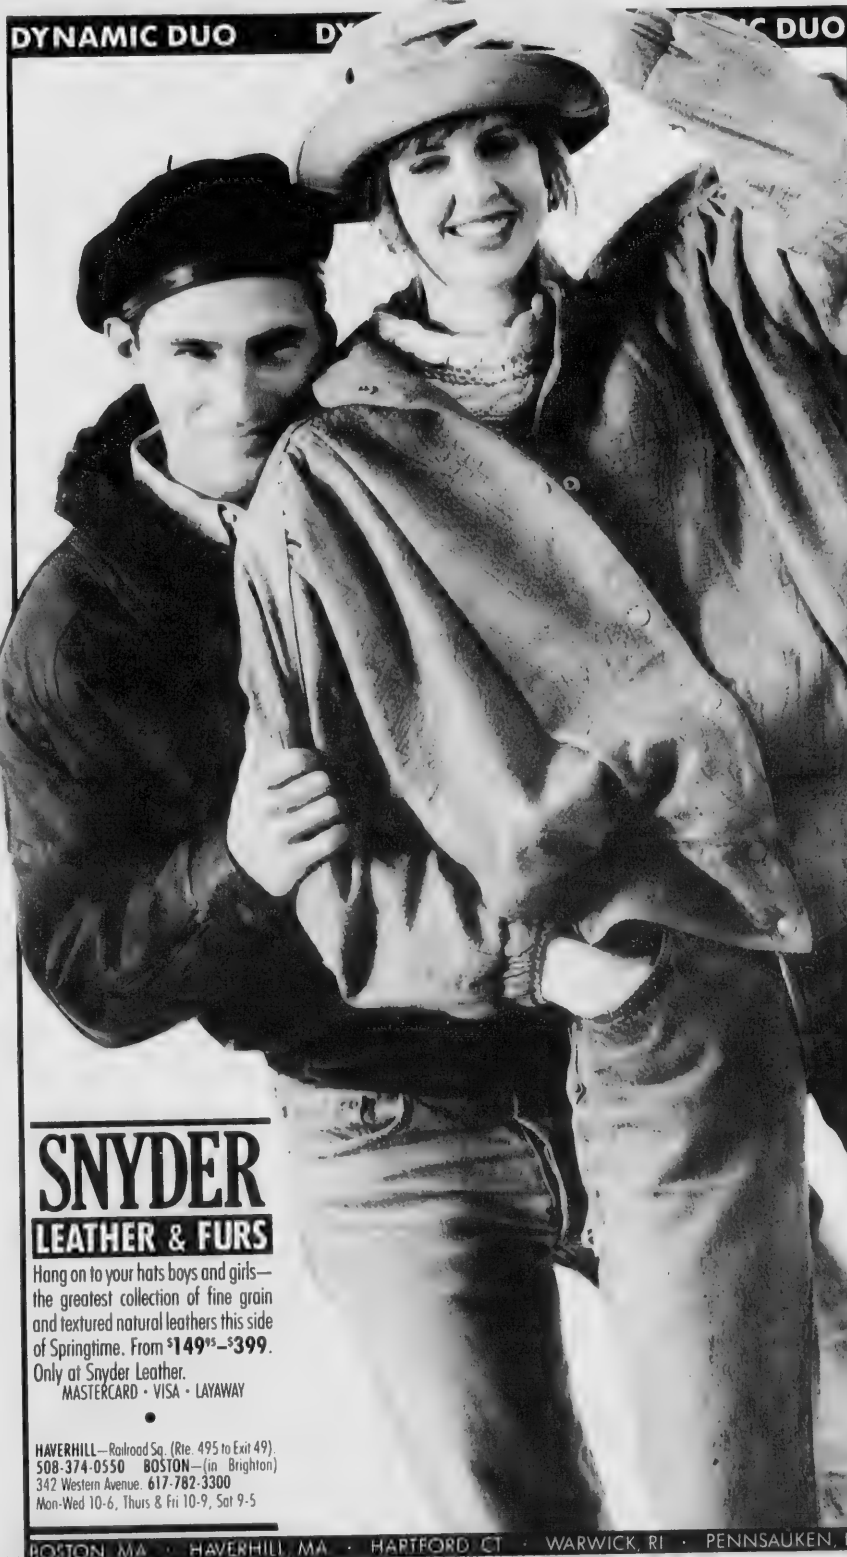

The Lawrence Camera Club will meet April 6 downstairs in the Bank of New England-Bay State Building, 84

Main St., Andover (next to Brigham's).

The meeting will feature the annual George Glennie Memorial Nature Slide Salon. Prints are due for the club's monthly competition. And guests are welcome.

Charlie Friese, left, member of Andover High School's Parent Advisory Council, and Jim Halligan, owner Miter Biter Frame Co. in Melrose, move a painting that will be sold at PAC's upcoming art auction. The auction will help fund pre-prom events for Andover High juniors and seniors.

PAC Plans Fund-Raiser For Pre-Prom Alternatives

By Amy Morrissey

Springtime is prom time. Thanks to the efforts of Andover High School's Parent Advisory Council, this year's prom promises to be a communitywide event.

Inspired by "safe prom" programs in neighboring towns, PAC co-presidents Sandra Bertetti and Helen Anderson want to sponsor pre-prom events for high school students.

"We are hoping to sponsor a promenade/grand march at the high school the night of the junior/senior prom and lower the cost of group limousine service to the Lowell Hilton," Bertetti said.

The limousine service aims to prevent drunk driving and accidents caused by overtired kids. "This may be a safe and inexpensive transportation alternative," said Mike Marcoux, counselor at AHS said.

To help raise funds toward the project, PAC is sponsoring an art auction, its first fund-raising and social event, on Saturday, April 8, Bertetti said.

Jim Halligan of Miter Biter Frame Co. in Melrose will bring art, including reproductions and etchings, that Bertetti called "reasonably priced, beautifully matted and framed."

"Our goal is to provide a pleasant evening for parents, as well as to raise money for the safe-prom concept," she added.

The auction will be held at the J. Everett Collins Center from 7 to 11 p.m. with viewing from 7 to 8. Non-alcoholic refreshments will be served, provided by Demoulas, Barcelos Brothers and Pepsi. Tickets may be purchased at the door, and donations will be accepted. For more information contact Bertetti or auction chairman Charlie Friese.

"We're hoping this will be a big success, but our goals can only be accomplished with the community's support," Bertetti said.

Morrissey is The TOWNSMAN's student intern.

Mavroules To Talk About Drug Education Program

U.S. Congressman Nicholas Mavroules will explain the Kids Care drug education program for local schools at Merrimack College at 7:30 a.m. Friday, April 7, in Murray Lounge.

"Kids Care" began as an initiative of the National Crime Prevention Council and was assisted by Raytheon Co., which underwrote education kits for Massachusetts' communities. Raytheon distributes the kits, consisting of a video and curriculum materials, to local schools.

Mavroules is coordinating Sixth Congressional District Kids Care efforts, which he hopes to use as a model for other congressional districts.

Merrimack is organizing college-level participation by developing a student drug education task force to assist local school districts to develop programs. The program will be coordinated by Dr. Joseph T. Kelley, the campus ministry director, and introduced to the Boston Archdiocese by the Rev. John E. Deegan, O.S.A., Merrimack's president.

Local school superintendents, health coordinators and teachers using the kits will be present at the meeting.

St. Patrick's Day at the Shawsheen Early Childhood Center for the past few years has meant another visit from Coast Connections Ben Parisi and Brian Cochran. They sing Irish and children's songs and say that the performances, which they do for free, are their favorites of the year. The repertoire has many songs the kindergarten children know and sing with the duo, above right.

Appointed To FAA Post

Veteran B-52 pilot James Haight of Andover has been appointed deputy regional administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration in New England. He will co-manage 2,000 FAA personnel at 68 field facilities in Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont.

Haight, 49, has been chief of the New England region's flight standards division which monitors aviation safety procedures and proficiency.

"Jim Haight is an experienced pilot and flight examiner," said New England Regional Administrator Arlene B. Feldman, who announced the election. "He has served the FAA in locations across the country. Jim is tailor-made for the job."

Haight is a colonel in the Air Force Reserve. In addition to his 17 years of government service, he flew 126 combat missions during the Vietnam War and has flown HC-130 search-and-rescue missions for the Air National Guard.

He holds ratings as a turbojet flight engineers and pilot of the Boeing 727 and Cessna Citation.

Haight joined the New England region headquarters at Burlington in 1987. He had been manager of an FAA flight standards district office in Albuquerque, N.M.

Haight came to the FAA in 1976 as an aviation safety inspector. He later became manager of the flight standards division at FAA's eastern region headquarters in Jamaica, N.Y.

He holds a bachelor of arts degree in foreign language and international affairs from the University of Missouri and completed graduate study in human resource management and organizational development at The New School in New York City.

The FAA operates nine regions and two aviation research centers.

'Words On The Land' Photographs Exhibited

A fascination with words found on the landscape has led Andover artist Diane Pitochelli to photograph hundreds of such words as images of our time during her travels here and in Europe. Fourteen of the provocative color photographs will be exhibited at Andover Books and Gallery, 68 Park St., Andover, through April 28. An informal reception for Pitochelli from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. will open the exhibit Saturday, April 1.

In Shakespeare's "Hamlet," Polonius asks Hamlet, "What do you read, my lord?" Hamlet replies, "Words, words, words." According to Pitochelli, 400 years later we are words, spoken, sung and written. Words lose their meaning, gain new meanings, transform to objects, are part of the architecture, part of the everyday landscape.

Pitochelli, a graduate of Emmanuel and Smith colleges, studied art at the Tyler School of Art in Rome 1973-74. She returned to Italy for further art study in 1978 under the auspices of a Blanche Coleman Foundation award. Her work has been exhibited in one-person shows at Phillips Academy's Addison Gallery of American Art Emmanuel College and Merrimack College. She has been part of many group shows in this country and in Italy.

(Political Advertisement)

I would like to thank all Andover voters who supported me in the election and a special thank you to all my campaign workers who donated endless hours of their time. It's a disappointment to lose the election, but it's wonderful to have so many good friends.

CARPET DENSITY

One of the best guides to carpet quality is the density of the finished carpet. The deeper and denser the pile, the better. Closely packed pile that is firmly secured to the backing is the mark of a good, long-wearing carpet. One way to check pile density is to bend back a corner of the carpet to see how much of the backing shows. The more backing that can be seen, the less fiber there is to walk on and the less durable the carpet will be. Denier and ply affect carpet density. "Denier" refers to the fiber size and weight. "Ply" is the number of strands twisted together to form a single yarn. For instance, a carpet made with three yarns twisted together in each tuft is considered a three-ply carpet.

Author To Lecture At Academy

Richard Rhodes

A Pulitzer Prize-winning author will speak at Phillips Academy's Friday Forum Lecture series on Friday, March 31.

Richard Rhodes will speak on "The Complementarity of the Bomb" at 6:45 p.m. in the auditorium of George Washington Hall on the PA campus. His lecture is free and open to the public.

A prolific writer of both fiction and non-fiction and a prominent lecturer, Rhodes' book The Making of the Atomic Bomb won the 1988 Pulitzer Prize in general nonfiction. In 1987 he was the recipient of two awards, the National Book Award in nonfiction and the National Book Critics Circle Award in general nonfiction.

Rhodes, currently a fellow in the defense and arms control studies program at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has received grants from the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, the National Endowment of the Arts and the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation. Before becoming an independent writer, Rhodes, a Yale University graduate, was a contributing editor for Harpers.

Friday Forum, sponsored by PA's history department, brings prominent journalists, scholars and diplomats to campus throughout the year.

To Discuss Framework Knitting

"William Lee and the Development of Framework Knitting" will be discussed by Dr. Stanley Chapman of the University of Nottingham at 11 a.m. Friday, April 21, at the Museum of American Textile History, 800 Massachusetts Avenue, North Andover.

The British hosiery and knitwear industry is celebrating its quartercentenary this year. In 1589, William Lee applied to Queen Elizabeth I for a patent for a machine to knit stockings. This is recognized as the starting point of an industry that has grown to world-wide dimensions.

Chapman will trace the development of the industry from the time of Lee to the early factory age. His slides focus on the early industry's cottage and workshops settings, which still survive in England, and he will show examples of frame-knitted hosiery.

Chapman was educated at the London School of Economics (University of London), Manchester University and Nottingham University. He became Pasold Lecturer at Nottingham University in 1968. Chapman has written "Cotton in the Industrial Revolution" and "The Rise of Merchant Banking" and edits "Textile History." He has been a member of the Lee Quartercentenary Committee from its inception.

The lecture is free. For further information, call the museum.

To Present Young People's Concert

The Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra will present its fourth annual Young Person's Concert at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts on Saturday, April 8, at 10 a.m. Tickets are available at the door.

Conductor George Monseur has designed a one-hour concert aimed at the young listener. The orchestra will open with the popular overture to Russlad and Ludmilla by Glinka, a melody played by many classical music stations.

Thirty members of the Suzuki Violin Method will play a set of four works.

These children, whose ages range from early teens to three-year olds, will play music by Dvorak and Handel. Symphony violinist Julia O'Brien-Merrill will be joined by her son, Nathaniel, to perform a movement from the Vivaldi A minor Violin Concerto and 18-year-old Megan Heersink and her 11-year-old sister, Bridget, will play a movement from the Bach Concerto for Two Violins and Orchestra.

The concert will conclude with members of the Portsmouth, N.H.-based Ballet New England creating dance forms to works by Bach and Dvorak.

To Present 'Requiem' At St. Robert's

The Andover Choral Society will present An Evening with Mozart, featuring the Requiem, as the second concert of its 60th anniversary year on Saturday, April 15, at 8 p.m. in St. Robert's Bellarmine Church, Haggetts Pond Road, West Andover.

Coming off its critically acclaimed production of Elijah in January, ACS is looking forward to this second performance of a year full of celebration, a year underwritten by grants of $2,500 from the Rogers Family Foundation and $6,000 from the Stevens Foundation as well as from individual benefactors throughout the Merrimack Valley.

Proceeds from the Mozart concert will benefit Lawrence's First Calvary Baptist Church which was destroyed by fire in January 1988. The Andover Choral Society began as the Square and Compass Glee Club and the Andover Male Choir under the direction of the late J. Everett Collins of Andover (for whom the Collins Center is named) at the same time he began his service in 1929 as choir director at Calvary Baptist. Four of the present ACS singers were members of the original choirs.

Tickets may be reserved by calling Calvary Baptist or St. Robert's.

SAVE OUR SHED

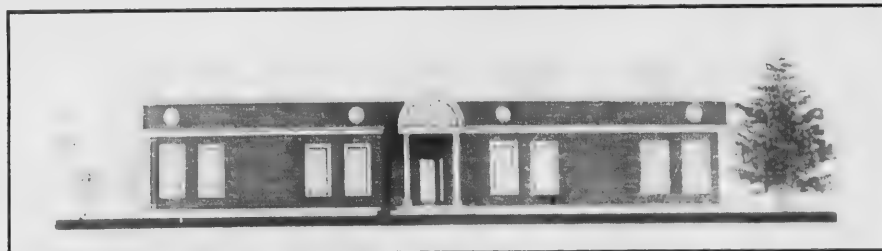

Attend Town Meeting — Monday, April 3 at 7:00 P.M.

Vote "YES" On Warrant Article #20 to allow the Town to borrow $150,000 to purchase a relocatable classroom.

SHED will:

- Pay the initial $67,000 deposit and installation fees
- Pay back the $150,000 with interest
- Pay all operating expenses incl. utilities, maintenance, etc.
- The Town will own the structure at all times

Proposed Relocatable Classroom

SHED is a quality enrichment and extended day program for Andover kindergartners only, serving nearly 400 families since 1984. Currently 1 out of 4 kindergartners are enrolled in SHED or on SHED's waiting list.

SHED is a town program, started by the Town of Andover in 1984 and overseen by the Department of Community Services.

*Andover's Town Counsel incorporated SHED, as had been done with several other Town programs, to limit the Town's liability.

SHED consumes no tax dollars and is fully self-supporting through parent-paid fees and has made improvements to the Shawsheen School.

ON-SITE location is critical to accommodate four transitions between Kindergarten and Shed each day.

*The classroom is relocatable so it can be sold, moved or converted should the school program change in the future.

At this time, there are no alternatives.

The Town Manager says, "If this article does not pass, SHED will disband."

Choirs In Concert Sunday

The combined choirs and orchestras of Phillips Andover and Phillips Exeter academies will present a concert Sunday, April 2, at 3 p.m. in Cochran Chapel on the Phillips Academy Andover campus.

The works to be performed are "Exultate Deo" (Psalm 80), a short work for double choir by the 17th-century Polish composer Andreas Hakenberger, and Part II of the "Messiah" by George Frideric Handel. Beginning with the opening chorus of Part II, "Behold the Lamb of God," the music and text depict the Passion of Christ, His suffering, death and resurrection, all told in Old Testament texts where all these events were prophesied. Part II ends with the vision of Christ triumphant in the beloved and familiar "Hallelujah" chorus, the text of which is found in the Book of Revelation, the final book in the New Testament.

The concert will be conducted by Carolyn Skelton with soloists Suzanne Dimmock, soprano; Katharine Emory, alto; Allen Combs, tenor; and Santo Cataudella, bass.

The concert will also be presented at the Phillips Church in Exeter, N.H., Saturday, April 1, at 7 p.m. with Stephen Kusner conducting.

On the average, the human body has 20 square feet of skin, 9,000 taste buds, 5 million hairs and 13 billion nerve cells.

The state of Kansas is named from the Kanze Indians who once lived there.

Organists In Concert At Academy

The Merrimack Valley Chapter of the American Guild of Organists will present an organ concert at Cochran Chapel on the campus of Phillips Academy on Sunday, April 9, at 3 p.m. The admission charge will be used toward the chapter's summer music camp scholarship program.

The featured recitalist is Leo Abbott, winner of numerous organ competitions and a finalist in the prestigious International Organ competition in Chartres, France. Abbott is organist and musical director of the Roman Catholic Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston. His repertoire covers all of the schools of organ composition and critics have praised his technical and musical interpretations of organ literature.

"The versatile Andover pipe organ in Cochran Chapel and the magnificent chapel setting, with its fine acoustics, offers the public a chance to hear a great artist in an environment conducive to fine performance," said concert organizers.

The guild's scholarship fund was established to assist young musicians still in school with the opportunity to further their musical training at summer music camps. Further information on the scholarship program is available from David Bergeron, chairman of the program.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Dorothy M. Winn

What would you do if you went for a walk and got lost? Most people would seek help from a passerby for directions. If you suffered from Alzheimer's disease, you would be unable to ask for directions or give your name to anyone who tried to help. If you are the family member of an Alzheimer's victim, have you ever thought what you would do if your loved one wandered off and got lost?

The Andover Council on Aging sponsors an Alzheimer's alert program to assist families in the event a family member gets lost. Forms are available at the senior center to provide vital information, such as height, weight, hair and eye color, habits, etc., which would be useful to the Andover Police Department in an emergency. Photographs of Alzheimer's victims are taken at the senior center to accompany the form which is kept on file with the police department. For further information or to schedule an appointment for a picture, contact Outreach Coordinator Elizabeth Leed at 470-3800, ext. 292.

Dino Valz is scheduled to share his travels in Italy and Switzerland on April 24.

Pat Wood, R.N., will conclude her three-part series on cholesterol on April 6 at 10:30 a.m. Her healthy topics program takes place the first and third Thursday of every month from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Also scheduled for Thursday, April 6, is cabinetmaker Sandy Pomeroy's program featuring a slide show and lecture focusing on New England architecture and decorative arts. This free program begins at 12:45 p.m.

Monthly calendars listing senior center events are available at no charge at the senior center. If you prefer having the calendar mailed to your home, you may subscribe for an annual fee of $5.

Mahony' Too Garden Center of Tewksbury will present a spring garden workshop on Thursday, April 13, at 1 p.m. with tips on flower and vegetable gardens and lawn care.

Chet Harnden and his big band sound will provide the entertainment for an old-fashioned ice cream sundae party on Tuesday, April 25. Tickets are on sale now for $2. The fun begins at 1 p.m.

Wednesday, May 24, is the date of the fourth annual Andover Senior "Citizens" Prom to be held at the Andover Marriott on Old River Road. The evening begins at 5:30 p.m. and includes a gourmet dinner, deluxe transportation for Andover residents, flowers for the ladies and gents and music for your listening and dancing pleasure, all for only $15 for Andover residents aged 60 and older. The price for non-residents and under-60 guests is $20. Space is limited, so get your tickets early.

We currently have several positions for front desk receptionist to assist with class, lunch and trip registrations, answering telephones and assisting people who come to the senior center with questions. Anyone interested in working at the front desk or with other volunteer assignments should contact Volunteer Coordinator Olivia Scileppi at 470-3800, ext. 291.

A meeting for Andover-North Andover members of AARP and potential members who would like to learn more about the activities of the American Association of Retired Persons will be held Monday, April 10, at 1 p.m. The program will include a video presentation highlighting AARP activities. Volunteers interested in organizing a local chapter should attend.

Don't forget to attend Town Meet at the J. Everett Collins Center Monday, April 3, at 7 p.m.

The Parkinson's Disease support group will meet at the Andover Senior Center Monday, April 3. Beth Cronin, outpatient nutritionist for Holy Family Hospital, will speak on proper nutrition and diet for victims of Parkinson's Disease. The support group is open to anyone living with Parkinson's Disease, their family members or caregivers. The group meets the first Monday of every month from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Mary Wesson, one of the leaders of the widows' group at Merrimack College, leads a support group for widows and widowers at the Andover Senior Center every Thursday at 3 p.m. All Andover residents are welcome.

The Social Security Administration says there is no need to wait in line at the Social Security office if they call ahead and make an appointment. Questions can also be answered over the phone. Before heading for Lawrence, call Social Security at 686-6171 and ask your question or make an appointment.

If you have questions about the new catastrophic health care coverage included in Medicare, call 1-800-888-1770.

Andover Public Health nurses conduct weekly blood pressure clinics every Wednesday from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the senior center at no charge.

Ducks will lay eggs only in the morning.

Health Forum

Dr. Susan O'Sullivan, assistant professor in the physical therapy department at the University of Lowell, will be the featured speaker at Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital's "First Tuesday" educational forum on April 4 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

O'Sullivan will speak on current theories of motor control and therapeutic approaches in neurologic rehabilitation. Her presentation will serve to update practicing therapists on new advances in the area of motor control.

Northeast Rehab. in Salem, N.H., has established the First Tuesday forum for health care professionals throughout the Merrimack Valley. On the first Tuesday of each month a expert in a variety of allied health care topics will address participants and entertain questions.

Eye To Eye

If you are or know an older person who cannot afford medical eye care, call the toll-free helpline of the National Eye Care Project, 1-800-222-EYES. The helpline operates weekdays, 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Each qualified caller will be matched with a nearby ophthalmologist who has volunteered to provide medical eye care for disadvantaged elderly at no out-of-pocket cost to the patient. If the patient is covered by Medicare or other health insurance, the doctor has agreed, for this project only, to accept insurance assignment as payment in full. If the patient has no medical insurance, the care is free.

To qualify, the patient must be 65 or older and a U.S. citizen. The patient must no longer have access to an ophthalmologist he or she has seen in the past. This is not an eye-glasses program, and prescription drugs and hospital care are not covered.

OBITUARIES

Donald Appleton

Donald Appleton, 94, of Manchester, Mass., formerly of Andover, died March 21, 1989, at Beverly Hospital.

He was born in 1894 in Haverhill, where his branch of the Appleton family had lived for 250 years. He was a descendant of Samuel Appleton, who settled in Ipswich in 1636.

Donald Appleton was the last of the family who lived in Haverhill. He graduated from Phillips Academy in 1914 and from Harvard University in 1918. He served in the Mexican border war in Battery A of the 1st Massachusetts Field Artillery in 1916; in France with the 101st Field Artillery in 1917; and later as captain of Battery C of the 31st Field Artillery.

He lived in Andover for many years and was manager of the former Champion International Paper Co. in Lawrence. He later moved to Dayton, Ohio, and Annisquam, while he was manager of paper mills in West Carrollton, Ohio, and Rumford, Maine. At the time of his retirement in 1961 he was the senior vice president and a director of the Oxford Paper Co. in New York City. He was also a director of the Nashwalk Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd. and the Rumford Falls Power Co.

During his lifetime he was a member of the D.U., Hasty Pudding and the varsity clubs of Harvard, North Andover Country Club, the Annisquam Yacht Club, the Singing Beach Club and the Somerset Club.

He was granted honorary life membership to the National Geographic Society for his contribution to the quality of their publications.

He almost celebrated two silver wedding anniversaries in his lifetime. His first wife was Nathalie (Arnold) Appleton, whom he married in Haverhill in 1920 and who died at home in Annisquam in 1948. In 1950 he married Agnes Bailey Cross of Andover, who lived with Mr. Appleton in Annisquam until her death in 1972.

Members of his family include two daughters, Alix Hasson of Rockville, Md., and Lucy Potter of Ipswich; a son, John Appleton of Manchester, Mass.; 19 grandchildren; and 13 great-grandchildren.

Memorial services were held Saturday in the Annisquam Village Church.

Contributions may be made in Mr. Appleton's memory to the Perkins Institute for the Blind, 175 North Beacon St., Waverlytown, Mass. 02172.

More obituaries are on pages 61 and 62.

Carola E. Goriansky

Carola Eliot Goriansky, 92, of 148 Main St., died March 24, 1989, at her home.

She was an editorial secretary to Dr. Alexander Forbes at Harvard Medical School before her marriage.

Mrs. Goriansky was born Nov. 9, 1896, in Brookline, the youngest of four daughters of Charles and Mary Yale (Pitkin) Eliot. When her father died in 1897, Mrs. Goriansky's mother took her and her sisters to Europe, and they later returned to Boston to continue their educations.

She was a graduate of the Winsor School and of Radcliffe College, from which she graduated in 1920. While working as Dr. Forbes' editorial secretary at the Harvard University Medical School, she met Lev Vladimir Goriansky, then an architectural student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. They were married in New York City in 1927 in a Russian Orthodox ceremony.

She and her husband moved to Andover in 1942. They had a summer home in Northeast Harbor, Maine. Mr. Goriansky died in 1967.

Mrs. Goriansky's maternal grandfather, Horace Woodbridge Pitkin of Hartford, Conn., was a descendant of John Woodbridge, one of the founders of the town of Andover. Her paternal grandfather, Charles William Eliot, was president of Harvard University from 1869 to 1909.

Members of her family include sons, Michael Eliot Goriansky of Andover and Alexander Yale Goriansky of Boston; two grandsons; eight nieces and nephews; and five cousins.

Services were held at Christ Church Monday. Cremation followed.

Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of one's choice.

How Andover Voted Elections Attract Large Voter Turnout

By Frank Messina

Responding to warm weather and fiery politics, Andover voters turned out in large numbers for town elections on Monday.

Under sunny blue skies, 27 percent of registered voters found their way to the polls to elect two incumbent selectmen, one 12-term town moderator and two new School Committee members.

It is the third straight year voter participation has jumped dramatically. Town Clerk Elden Salter, who predicted 4,500 to 5,000 voters would show, turned out to be a prophet as 4,507 voters came out—an increase of more than 1,000 over last year. Pollgoers went from a low of 376 in an uncontested 1986 election to 2,848 in 1987 and 3,417 last year.

With a tightly contested race for selectmen and good weather, Salter had hoped to see even larger numbers, but was still pleased with the results.

Ballot-counting went smoothly, the town clerk said, and preliminary results were available less than two hours after the polls closed at 8 p.m.

Voters Return Selectman Incumbents To Their Seats

By Frank Messina

Someday in the hazy future, an incumbent selectman may be upset in town elections, but it didn't happen in 1989 as Andover voters returned Charles Wesson and Gerald Silverman to their seats on the Board of Selectmen by a surprisingly comfortable margin Monday.

Running as a team, the incumbents were within four votes of each other, Wesson's total of 2,446 easily outdistancing Jack Dziadul, who polled 1,927 residents.

George Danneman finished fourth with 1,628 votes.

"I was surprised; I thought it would be closer," said Silverman.

"I'm just glad (the margin) wasn't 50 votes or less," said Dziadul. "If it was 50 votes I would have been second-guessing myself until the cows come home."

Although a sitting selectman hasn't been toppled in over 20 years, say town

Two New Faces Join School Committee

By Lisa A. Boudreau

Andres Salazar of 58 Salem St. and Richard Hubbell of 74 Wildrose Drive will be the two new faces on the Andover School Committee.

The two spots were made available when 10-year committee member and recent Chairman Donald Robb and nine-year committeeman Richard Neal decided not to run for re-election. Salazar and Hubbell were joined in the race for the committee seats by Christopher Outwin of 4 High St.

Salazar was the top finisher with 3,034 votes, and Hubbell finished second with 2,260, 422 ahead of Outwin.

Some of the issues facing the School Committee will be the search for a new superintendent of schools when Dr. Kenneth Seifert retires in two years, the aging population of teachers and space and maintenance needs in the schools, along with the future of the Shawsheen Extended Day program and day care needs for Andover families.

"There is a lot of work that Dick (Hubbell) and I have ahead of us," said Salazar.

12-Term Moderator Wins

By Lisa A. Boudreau

Twenty-seven percent of Andover's registered voters went to the polls on Monday to elect town officials, and 3,013 of them gave 12-year incumbent Town Moderator James Doherty a vote of confidence. Doherty of 9 Juniper Drive was challenged unsuccessfully for the second year in a row by John Doyle of 40 Reservation Road, who received 1,299 votes.

Over 1,000 more residents voted in this year's town elections than last year. Doherty said he was extremely pleased with the results.

"I'm happy that the additional 1,000 voters who voted voted for me," he said.

Doyle would give no comment on the election results.

Doherty called this year's campaign one of the most negative he can remember. Doyle has repeatedly criticized what he calls Doherty's heavy-handed style of running town meetings.

Doherty and Doyle have locked horns in past meetings. The conflict came to a head after the 1987 town meeting when Doherty

Poll Shows Voter Indecision On SHED Article

By Frank Messina

A recent TOWNSMAN poll indicates many voters are still undecided over the most controversial issue on Monday's town meeting agenda—a proposal that would let a day care program survive by purchasing portable classrooms with town money.

The survey, taken outside town election polls March 27, showed the issue too close to call. A slight majority, 54 of 100 people questioned, didn't favor a plan to install temporary structures at Shawsheen School to house the Shawsheen Extended Day Care program.

Voters fell into three camps. Many were torn between sympathy for the SHED program, which reportedly will dissolve if the article doesn't pass, and reluctance to spend town money on portable buildings for a private day care provider. Others were firmly rooted on either side of the controversy.

Faced with leaving Shawsheen School this June because of a space shortage, SHED, one of several non-profit corporations developed by the town and separated for insurance purposes, has been unable to find another facility to move into. The article calls for a $150,000 bond issue to buy portable classrooms for the Shawsheen grounds. The structure would remain town property when SHED finds a permanent home.

"I think it's putting a Band-Aid on an open wound," said Bruce Westaway of 326 River Road. "The town has either got to deal with (day care) wholeheartedly or not do it at all."

Andover resident Jane Corey, 8 Binney St., reflected the viewpoint of many who said they planned to vote against the article. "I feel this is mixing public and private enterprise," said Corey.

Others simply stated philosophical objections to child care. One couple, who declined to be identified, said mothers should raise their families at home.

Supporters of the article were just as adamant. With the school system's kindergarteners concentrated at Shawsheen, one couple objected to moving youngsters around if SHED went elsewhere.

"We don't understand why kindergarteners have to be bused," said Susan McCaslin, as Victor Henningsen stood alongside. "Any alternate site would require 5-year-olds to be bused five times daily."

A large segment of those polled showed mixed emotions. Ruth Trapanier, 134 Chestnut St., was one of those people. Although Trapanier feels SHED "is wonderful," she maintains that SHED and the school system shouldn't mix their activities.

Voters aren't the only group divided by SHED. The selectmen recently voted not to support the SHED article—by a 3-2 split. The finance committee decided to back SHED—by a 4-3 vote. However, with two members absent, the committee was scheduled to vote again Wednesday night.

But there is some doubt that SHED will make it to the floor of town meeting. With the selectmen and the Finance Committee voting against the portable classrooms, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said the article might be pulled from consideration.

The decision will have been made last night after presstime when Mahony and other town officials meet to discuss town meeting procedure.

"If it looks like (the article) will be dead, it could well be removed," he said. One of the arguments for keeping the issue before the voters, said Mahony, is because SHED "supporters will want to have their say."

As a bond article, a two-thirds vote will be needed for passage.

Town meeting opens Monday, April 3, at 7 p.m. at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts on Shawsheen Road.

Committee Welcomes New Members

By Lisa A. Boudreau

The School Committee welcomed Andres Salazar and Richard Hubbell, the newly voted committeemen, and elected new officers at its meeting Tuesday night.

Margo Tilghman is the new School Committee chairman, and Michael Frishman was named secretary.

The committee voted unanimously to approve the $21,491,052 bottom line school budget and acknowledged there would be changes in the budget due to continuing union negotiations. Five of seven union contracts will be up on June 30, and the other two will run out Aug. 31.

After much discussion involving the school $500,000 bonding article, the committee voted 4-1, with Hubbell the lone dissenter, to reword the article, specifically requesting the money be bonded for repairs on the high school roof. An identical 4-1 vote directs the administration to work with the town maintenance department to modify the $800,000 town capital funds project to include items on school health and safety priorities. The vote also means the administration will have to present a list of those priorities to the School Committee before town meeting on April 3.

Hubbell called the plan "a Band-Aid remedy," one that did not address overall maintenance issues.

"My point is that we're just not going to get to the planning function," he said.

Joanne Marden, chairman of the Finance Committee, who was in the audience, said the wording of the original article would allow for narrowing the focus to one overall repair, such as the high school roof.

"I don't see going for $500,000 for the roof as being inconsistent with going at a future date for a total plan," said Marden.

"We are in a far better position going into town meeting to defend the realignment of article 25 now," said committee member Susan Poore. "We also acknowledge the fact that there is adjustment in the $800,000 package that will reflect some of the other needs we identify as being important."

The committee also outlined its priorities for the coming year. Top on the list was grade reorganization, including full implementation of the two middle schools and a primary grade structure review. A personnel category was added, including staff development, initial phases for a superintendent search and contract negotiations. Under physical plant concerns the committee listed a maintenance program evaluation and a building needs action plan. Also included was the evaluation of the high school accreditation plan.

In other committee business, the committee voted unanimously to appoint Lee Winchell, supervisor of custodians, to the position of school department asbestos coordinator. The appointment is required by federal regulations.

Andover Man Charged With Jewelry Theft

By Frank Messina

With a little luck and a bit of major league forensic work, Andover police recovered a $17,000 jewelry cache last week.

Andover detectives Kevin Burke and Robert Cronin were patrolling downtown just after 10:30 p.m. March 23 when they spotted a dark figure leaving a Barnard Street alley.

Recognizing Tim Phillips, 20, of 11 Chapman Ave. as a local resident with a history of break-in arrests, the man was stopped and questioned, said police.

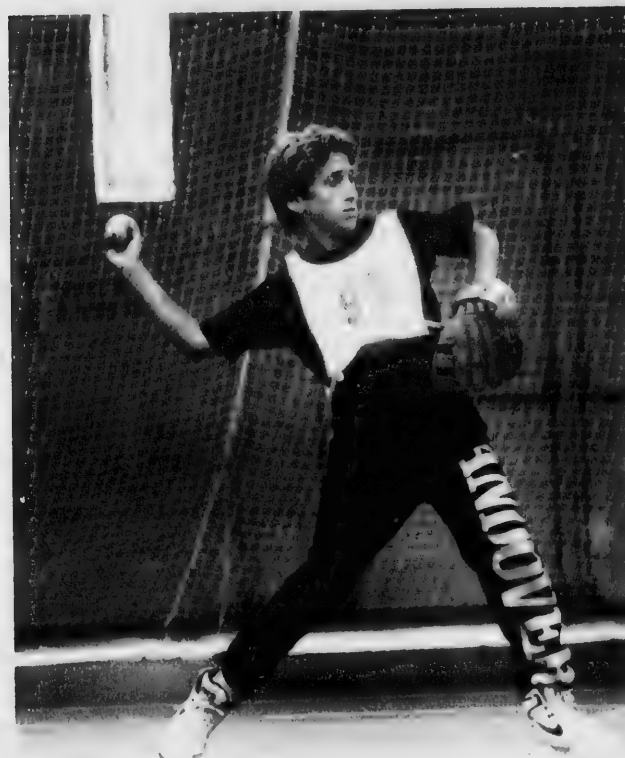

As Phillips sat in his Cadillac, "he kept moving his feet, kicking something under the seat," said Burke.

The detectives found a small box containing a dazzling array of jewelry, including a diamond jewel pin, pearl studded earrings and a large ruby ring with diamond settings.

Phillips said he had just reclaimed the gems from an ex-girlfriend. The detectives invited him to the station for further questioning. Phillips declined the offer but Burke and Cronin insisted.

At the station, Phillips claimed he bought the jewels from Royal Jewelers in Lawrence for $400, said Burke. Finding boxes from downtown Boston with the jewelry, Burke became suspicious and called Paula Leed-Aron, the Lawrence store's owner, for confirmation.

OPINION

The Day Care Need

Andover's annual town meeting gets underway Monday night, and, as usual, an article which at first seemed rather uncontroversial, has taken over dominance of the session.

Funding for the Shawsheen Extended Day program has aroused the citizenry, been given a negative response by the majority of the selectmen and School Committee and found the neighbors of the Shawsheen School disturbed by the possibility of portable classrooms being placed in their backyards.

It is understandable that municipal officials feel the town should not be in the day care business.

It is also easily understood how the neighbors might object to the installation of the portable classroom building in their area of the community.

But, however reluctant one might be to accept the theory, there is a definite need for day care in this community and the SHED program has worked well to date.

It is not a pleasing thought that the town should have to provide a service such as this. It only supports the contention that modern parents have children simply for show and let others care for them in order that they may enjoy life to the fullest.

But, in many cases there is a definite need to have adequate child care in order that both parents can work to provide adequately for the family.

In that case, the SHED program has met a need. The program has been adequately and properly staffed and has not cost the community. The warrant article facing voters next week will ask for $150,000 for purchase and installation of the portable classroom, with the funds to be returned to the town through those availing themselves of the service.

Although there is reservation about the program as mentioned previously here, it is recommended that continued support for the SHED program be accorded at town meeting next week.

And, before getting off the local electoral process issue, let's say a commendable word for the town's senior citizens, who showed up in good numbers for Monday's town election and more than likely will do so for town meeting next week.

The senior citizens of this community have consistently shown their interest in the town by participating in the town's activities, as was evident on Monday when they paraded to the polls in a steady stream throughout the day.

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

One cannot fault the Internal Revenue Service for being compassionate.

Consider at this time of year, when most everyone is making the annual gruesome task of compiling our annual dues to maintain democracy, the IRS this week issued new regulations, should the country, or a specific area of same, suffer a nuclear attack.

These federal collectors have indicated that should we suffer a nuclear attack, a 30-day respite will be granted from tax collections.

But, a more recent addition to the IRS code states that once the emergency is over, the IRS will vigorously pursue the collection of taxes, and such effort will be placed on that area which will produce the most revenue, whether it be in the area of consuming delinquent taxes or current dues.

This is most pleasant news. Considering the tolls and after effects of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, one can take solace that our benevolent and sympathetic government will grant us time to recover from nuclear attack.

Such consideration may well be based on a sort of selfishness and protective atmosphere for the workers at IRS whose eyes may be affected by the glow of the returns as they drift in.

Consider if you will the relief that must be felt by the ownership of the Sheraton Rolling Green, which will not have to worry about the reflection from the thousands of returns pouring into the massive IRS center across from them on Lowell Street.

And, just think of the guy that put off paying his taxes for awhile just waiting for this nuclear attack, figuring he'd be safe.

Having withstood the assault from the mushroom cloud, etc., now he stands the possibility of being the first to get whacked should those in charge feel that the delinquent duespayers should be first to pay up.

It is probably such information that initiates rumors about the Lowell Street facility being closed down, which it isn't.

But, if you think a bit about this new nuclear relief from taxpaying for a 30-day period, such is a possibility.

It would probably take that long to get the equipment moved and in operation at the Seabrook nuclear plant, which has got to be used for something, sometime.

All the processing would be done there in the safe confines of a nuclear radiation-safe facility.

And, someday, after all the nuclear waste has dissipated, if you see someone coming up the front walk dressed in what appears to be a suit better fitted for space exploration, you know you are about to be audited.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — March 1889

At a special meeting of the Selectmen on Wednesday, a franchise was granted to the Andover Electric Light Company.

The selectmen appointed Omar Jenkins, Geo. Mears, William Gillespie and John W. Tough as police officers, and Henry K. Flint and Charles Dugan as Field Drivers.

We learn with great regret that Mr. Charles S. Parker has felt compelled, on account of his health, to resign his office as one of our Selectmen. The Board will meet tomorrow to take action upon this resignation.

The usual Winter Tournament given by the Phillips Academy Athletic Association took place Saturday afternoon. As a whole the exhibition was credible and some of the parts most excellent, but the average was below that of previous years.

One of the largest, most unique and most successful gatherings of the week was that of the young people of the South church last evening. The vestry and adjoining room were crowded, over 300 being present. It was called and Author's Carnival, on account of the presence of such characters as MacBeth, King Arthur, Juliet, Tennyson's May Queen, and others of stately or or comely mien, who mingled with the throng unrecognized by us. Dear Little Lord Fauntleroy was there; Betsy and I were out; so was Josiah Allen, but without Samantha. General Washington was present—as we understood it—in duplicate, in order to represent the Presidnet of 1789, as first in war and also in peace.

H. S. Wright has bought out the plumbing and stove business of Saunders Bros.

Nesbit Gleason of Main street has been transferred from the American Woolen Co. in Boston to the Washington Mills of Lawrence.

Miss Etta M. Dodge, principal of the Indian Ridge school is ill with the grip. Mrs. Dodson of Lawrence is substituting during her absence.

Andover has certainly been affected by the recent Auto Show in Boston, for George Walsh has purchased a Maxwell car, while Burt Anderson has purchased an Oakland.

Arthur O'Hara got his hands badly burned while fighting the fire at his home last Sunday night. Fire started about eight o'clock last Sunday night at the home of Charles O'Hara by an overturned lamp which would have caused a bad fire had it not been for the quick and thoughtful work of the family. The damage amount to about two hundred dollars.

In police court an old offender was fined —$5— for drunkenness. Judge Stone warned her that her next offense would mean a jail sentence.

25 Years Ago — March 1964

A rumor that seemed to have substantial basis has it this week that the Shaw property on Main street, considered as a town hall site at the recent town meeting, has been sold to private parties. It is not yet known whether the property will be used for business purposes or for residential, but opinion seems to incline toward the former.

Dr. Percy J. Look was elected chairman of the Board of Health Tuesday night, with Franklin H. Stacey being named secretary. George Brown, the previous secretary, in retiring, made the motions that Dr. Look and Mr. Stacey be named to the respective positions.

The Shawsheen Village Woman's Club will present a cast of members and children of members in Famous Paintings of Famous Women at the Shawsheen school hall next Monday evening at 8:00. Varied musical selections will accompany the tableaux.

THE PUBLIC FORUM

Save Shawsheen

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

On a winter's Sunday afternoon 38 years ago we drove to Andover to find a home. We came down Route 28 into Shawsheen Village and knew we had arrived. It was like a Currier and Ives print. The snow was falling gently, the Brothers Field (lower Shawsheen) was an ice skating rink, floodlights were shining on it, music was playing and adults and children were having a wonderful time. We looked at each other and said this was where we wanted to live.

It is hard to imagine now, but at that time there was absolutely nothing in the square to spoil its pristine appearance, and yet there existed within that little area a market, a laundry, a drug store, a barbershop, a bowling alley, a dance hall and tiny little bakeshop. All existed in buildings that had been designed to make a harmonious whole and not obtrude, except the little bakery. That was housed in a small, square building that sat in front of Hussey's Pond. It was not large enough to detract from the view and the serenity of the pond.

I believe the ladies that ran the bakeshop wanted to expand but were refused the permission, and yet within a short period of time, the ugly string of shops that now grace the corner of Lowell and Poor streets appeared.

The other side of Main Street wasn't spared either—first the cleaning shop in a tasteless building and then the monster automobile building coming right out to the sidewalk. More recently, Dunkin Donuts in all its loveliness has arrived to be followed, we hear, by several unnecessary shoppettes. The tennis courts have become parking spaces as have most of the streets in the village.

Shawsheen is famous in the rest of the United States as having been one of the first planned communities. It has been declared a historic district, and many of the buildings in it have been included in the National Register of Historic Places. The Shawsheen School building is one of these. It is in the yard of this historic school that SHED wishes to place a "temporary" building—a 30-by-70-foot building in one of the smallest school yards in town.

It would seem as though a community would cherish something like a historic district and try to preserve its unique heritage. Instead, Shawsheen has been treated like a dumping ground.

Entering Andover from the south, Route 28 passes by Phillips Academy, preserved in all its beauty for the ages. It is almost unbelievable that a short 38 years ago, the northern end of Route 28 passed by an equally lovely vista—that of Shawsheen Village. Sad to say, it has not been preserved in all its beauty.

Can't we make a stand and try to stop any further defacement of our historic district? Won't you come to the town meeting and vote against placing a "temporary" building in it?

Today it is Shawsheen; tomorrow it may be your section of town.

A 'No' Vote On Article 20

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Despite allegations and innuendoes being made in this highly emotional issue, a "no" vote on Article 20 is not a vote against children or day care.

It is, rather, a vote against poor planning on the part of the town officials supervising the program who knew from the beginning that their location at Shawsheen School was temporary and were given a full year by the School Committee to find another location.

Instead, they have chosen to place an unsightly portable building in the schoolyard creating a "hostile location" in a residential neighborhood proud of its historic designation and willing to invest time and money and energy to maintain the integrity of their neighborhood.

So many questions have been left unanswered by proponents of the SHED proposal, who have chosen to rely on emotional outbursts.

I congratulate those selectmen and School Committee candidates courageous enough to look past the emotional rhetoric and see that SHED's proposal is not a good plan, seeking funds for a building whose value is temporary at best, for a program that admittedly does not serve the needs of all families who apply to the day care program and will not in their new facility and damages the quality of life in the Shawsheen neighborhood.

Allowing the placement of portable trailer-like buildings on town property sets a dangerous precedent. I do not want portable classrooms or buildings in my neighborhood nor in any neighborhood in the town of Andover.

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

It was a shock to find in the headlines of The Andover TOWNSMAN March 16 the possibility of a shooting range in our town.

This is a time when our legislators are struggling to control the carnage taking place on our streets.

We have finally moved to a town where we feel less threatened. But the headlines alone bring the threat closer.

We respectfully submit as strong an objection as is possible to the shooting range.

Comments On Vote

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

We wish to comment on opinions expressed by several of the selectmen at their March 20 board meeting opposing the town manager's warrant article to provide classroom space for SHED at the Shawsheen School (Article 20).

We are disturbed by the positions of several selectmen at this meeting. Mrs. Ralston, who has been a strong advocate of after-school child care programs, is opposing warrant Article 20 because she believes that it establishes an unacceptable "precedent."

We understand her concern to be that SHED would be receiving town benefits to enable it to continue to operate as an on-site kindergarten enrichment program and that this relationship creates concerns.

No undesirable precedent is being established by approval of Article 20. First and foremost, SHED is a creature of the town—created, operated and controlled by the town. Even if SHED were to be considered the private enterprise that Mrs. Ralston alleges, approval of this article would not establish a precedent. Any precedent is based on the facts presented. It should not be extended beyond those facts to hypothetical concerns.

The only message that private developers can take from the approval of Article 20 is that if you operated a town-initiated, town-controlled, town-supervised program set up by town counsel to benefit Andover's residents at no profit to you, then the town may assist you to carry on your program. Such assistance in SHED's case carries with it the price tag of an initial donation to the town of $67,000 and, five years down the road, a total "gift" to the town of $200,000. Any other precedent is purely speculative.

The town is adequately protected from undesirable extensions of this approval when faced with future proposals. Such proposals would be subject to review and prior approval by town officials. Such approval would not be any assurance that future proposals would be similarly addressed. (We note that just one year ago the 1988 Board of Selectmen approved with no dissent the substance of Article 20, but this position appears to have had no effect upon the present board's reconsideration of this issue on March 20).

We suggest to Mrs. Ralston that the precedent her vote may be setting may be twofold. First, it may serve to warn the half dozen other town programs established like SHED as separate legal entities for liability reasons that their future, no matter how wonderful their program, may be in doubt. Secondly, her vote in favor of closing SHED may well set back ongoing efforts to develop quality extended day programs for Andover's school children by politicizing this issue.

As to Mr. Barenboim's opposition to Article 20, it appears to rest solely on his opposition to "portables." We suggest that he look at some of today's modular buildings and compare them with the quality of SHED's basement space. Yes, the proposed building is "portable," but it is by no means second class. Mr. Barenboim actually took the position that "the need for portables reflects the lack of adequate prior planning;" he apparently believes that the way to reprimand prior town officials for inadequate planning is by eliminating programs for 6-year-old children. SHED has been planning for its future needs all along; the present proposal is the only acceptable way to keep SHED on-site at the Shawsheen School. This plan was developed by SHED in conjunction with the town manager and approved by the selectmen a year ago. It is clear that SHED had done its planning. We are aware of no facts presented this year which were not available to the selectmen last year during the planning process to warrant the board's reversal of its position.

Everyone seems to agree that SHED is a program that has benefited our youngest school children. SHED's director, Sidney Bialo; its super staff; Joan Pearson, director of DCS; and many parents and town educators have spent five years developing a model extended-day enrichment program for Andover's 5- and 6-year-olds. They have been so successful that one out of four kindergarteners now go to SHED or are on its waiting list. By defeating this article, we offer future kindergarteners and their families no adequate, comparable alternative to SHED. Hypothetical ill-defined concerns over the future impact of today's decisions should not justify ending quality child care. The goal of long-term planning is not more important than reasonable short-term solutions designed to save a successful, ongoing program.

Families need SHED now. This need will not go away if SHED is forced to close. We ask the residents of Andover to shout yes for approval of Article 20.

SPORTING LIFE

Softballers Looking For Lost Magic

By Rick Harrison

It's been nearly a decade since Andover High was a major force in Merrimack Valley Conference softball, and coach Pat Thomson is hoping this year's team can reach into the past and pull out some of that lost magic.

However, with just two seniors and five juniors figuring prominently in the varsity picture — the Golden Warriors may still be a year away.

Thomson, varsity assistant Ken Pellerin, second-year junior varsity coach Sandy Lunt and freshman skipper Dave Gangi greeted 50 candidates at the opening day of practice March 20.

"It's a very good turnout, especially among the freshmen (22) and sophomores classes," said Thomson. "Changing over to a four-year high school should help build a solid program. We'll keep almost everyone (no cuts) to stock the three teams, but we'll still be very young and a bit inexperienced."

Key graduates from last year's squad were shortstop Lisa Fossella (St. Anselm College) and first baseman Karen DelSarto (Villanova), the top two hitters on the team.

"We're working a lot on offense during the pre-season because Lisa and Karen were high-powered batters," said Thomson. "We should have a strong pitching staff, and we'll be tough up the middle of the diamond (catcher-pitcher-short-second-centerfield)."

Senior captain Cara Workman is expected to be the workhorse of the mound corps, the senior veteran having spent a lot of time in the off-season perfecting the windmill delivery.

Juniors Andrea Duffy and Nicole Ricci may also see spot duty on the hill, although most high school teams tend to stick with the same hurler for the majority of games.

Workman also does some catching and plays the outfield, while Ricci is a top-notch receiver and infielder as well.

Other returning starters from last spring are senior outfielder Alison Burke and junior centerfielder Michelle DeStefano.

Junior catcher-first baseman Sarah Little and junior infielder Lisa Foresta have also looked good in practice.

"After that basic nucleus we have a lot of promising sophomores trying to make it on the varsity," said Thomson, who intends to keep 13 players on the top squad and will divide the talent for the final time either today or tomorrow.

The Lady Warriors practiced at the Philips Academy Cage for the first six days, but the 70-degree weather this week was enough to initiate outdoor workouts this past Tuesday.

Andover faces North Andover in its first scrimmage game tomorrow on the Scarlet Knights' field, then hosts Stoneham next Monday and North Reading April 10 for practice games.

The first regular season contest is next Wednesday, April 5, when non-league foe Reading High plays at the West Middle School field.

Thomson, who starts her 12th season at the AHS helm, feels Methuen, Dracut and Haverhill will be the MVC teams to beat.

"Methuen and Dracut both have outstanding pitchers returning, while Haverhill lost its ace (Kerri Horgan) but has a lot of good all-around athletes from that (state champion) basketball team."

But Andover has some three-sport athletes of its own, like Nicole Ricci (soccer, basketball), and that's how it was when Heather Thomson and Lisa Concerni led the Warriors to the Eastern Mass. Tournament in the early 1980's.

Maybe this is the year Andover goes back.

Malitsky On Squash Team

Jahna Malitsky of 9 Pleasant St., Andover, was a member of the 1989 Hamilton College women's squash team.

The Continentals overcame a demanding schedule with wins over Haverford and Wesleyan late in the season. Their 3-9 record reflects a building year as team members gained experience and game sense throughout the season. The Hamilton squad will graduate just two players this season. Coach Jackie Bagwell looks forward to a successful season next year when three of her top four seeds return to an experienced team.

Malitsky played the no. 1 seed for the second consecutive year. After returning from a semester abroad, she tallied a 3-4 record.

Hamilton College, an independent, privately endowed liberal arts college in Clinton, N.Y., was founded in 1812 and is the nation's 30th oldest college. Named for Alexander Hamilton, the first Secretary of the Treasury, Hamilton is coeducational and has a student enrollment of 1,650. The college features a strong curriculum in the humanities, arts, sciences and social sciences.

Gov. Dummer Hoopsters Dominate

Governor Dummer Academy's varsity basketball team continued to dominate the Independent School League with a 15-0 season. Bill Batchelder of Andover earned his first letter on that team.

The Governors won their fourth ISL title in five years and stretched their regular season ISL win streak, which began in January 1986, to 55 games.

Batchelder, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Batchelder, Sr. Senior Phil Dimitriou, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evangelos Dimitriou of Andover, earned a certificate as team manager.

Brian Novelline of Andover, a sophomore, was a second-year letterman on GDA's hockey team, which, after dominating the ISL Eberhart Division and winning the New England Division II title last year, moved up to Division I and the Keller Division. The Keller is considered by many to be the finest league in the country.

"We clearly belong in this league," said coach Larry Piatelli. Despite the uncharacteristic 5-10-1 record, seven of the losses were by only one goal. Novelline is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Novelline, Jr.

Other Andover residents receiving letters at varsity awards ceremonies last week were: junior Grayson Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Cunningham, women's hockey; Erin Gurry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Gurry, women's hockey; sophomore Meireideth Kalil, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Michael J. Kalil, formerly of Andover, volleyball; sophomore Chris Park, son of Dr. and Mrs. Han Y. Park, wrestling; freshman Tara Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Ryan, volleyball; junior Jessica Tippo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denis R. Tippo, her second in volleyball; junior Chris Troianello, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank M. Troianello, wrestling.

Senior Lindsey Curley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Curley of North Andover, earned her second letter in volleyball.

Basketball Team To Be Honored

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High boys' varsity basketball team will hold its annual post-season awards dinner on Tuesday, April 4.

The dinner is tentatively scheduled for Bishop's Restaurant.

Among the trophies to be given out by varsity coaches Tom Ryser and Chris Bartley are Most Valuable Player, Coaches Award, Most Potential, Newcomer Making the Biggest Contribution, Captains' Award and the McKinley Award to the senior who best represents Andover.

Coach Ryser will also present some gag gifts and conduct his annual "roast" of the players.

"All year they're hammering away at the coaches, and this is my chance to get 'em back," he explained. The captains will have a chance at rebuttal.

The captains for 1989-90 will not be elected until next school year.

"We don't want any 'fat cats' bragging about being captain all summer," explained Ryser. "We'll see who wants to work to improve and when the kids come back next year we'll make the choice."

Ryser was not disappointed with the Golden Warriors' 12-7 season, but did feel the club could have done better.

"For the first time in 15 years coaching I had a team lose six of the seven close games it was involved in," said Ryser. "It wasn't the strength of our opponents that beat us. Virtually every loss came because of things we didn't do well under pressure."

"Things like missing foul shots or failing to use the clock properly."

"I don't believe in inexperience. We just didn't execute when we had to in key situations during those games."

"We beat every other team except Lawrence at least once, and Lawrence won the league," said Ryser. "One of the losses to Haverhill (tournament qualifier) was in double overtime, and we played Lowell and Central (other qualifiers) tough."

"I'm cautiously optimistic about next year. We still have a lot of three-sport athletes and no size."

"Everyone keeps saying how good we'll be because we have so many players returning, but most of them are about 5-9. You need someone with 6-7 size, a Todd Orlando or Ted Kelley, and I haven't had anyone like that in six years here. We need someone who can get the ball off the rim consistently," said Ryser.

"We do have a good group coming back," added Ryser, "but they have to be willing to play some ball in the summer."

The Golden Warriors graduate three seniors in Todd Musterait, UMass-bound John Russell and Dan Holmender.

Honored

Barry Connors' outstanding performance on the basketball court this season earned him the 1989 Excellence in Basketball Award from Choate Rosemary Hall.

"Barry had a truly outstanding season," said the Andover resident's coach. "He earned the Excellence in Basketball Award for his play. He was the team's leading scorer with 24 points per game and leading rebounder with 11 rebounds per game."

Jesse Owens, the Olympic runner, established four world track records in one afternoon.

Pee Wee A's Perform Admirably

The Andover hockey team came up short in its attempt at a state title in the Pee Wee Division I AHACM state tournament playdowns at Newton. Andover won two of their three games before being eliminated from advancing to the semifinal round. Andover skated to an impressive 3-0 victory over Newton on Friday night. Ryan Moynihan scored after getting a pass out front from Brian Flanagan. Then Flanagan scored from outside the crease after passes from Moynihan and Dave Wartman. Brendan Sheehy scored an unassisted goal in the second period as he got the puck in the corner, skated towards the net and put a backhand through the sprawling Newton goalie's legs. Andover completed the scoring in the third period when Flanagan got a pass from Moynihan and put a shot high into the upper corner. Danny Hansberry poked in a rebound from in close with Richie Enos and Sheehy picking up assists.

Andover's opponent on Saturday morning was Weymouth. Weymouth opened the scoring less than four minutes into the game and scored two more goals in the second period to go out in front 3-0. Then, in the third period, Brendan Sheehy scored on a shot from the left faceoff circle to put Andover on the scoreboard. Hansberry scored on a pass from Sheehy to bring Andover to within a goal at 3-2 with just under five minutes remaining in the game. With less than a minute left, Weymouth scored a powerplay goal to give them a 4-2 victory.

Andover played WTM from Wilbraham at night. After a scoreless first period, Andover went out in front near the five-minute mark of the second period when Flanagan received passes from Moynihan and Wartman and fired a wrist shot into the net. Near the end of the period Dave Bailey took a pass from Wartman and fired a shot from the blue line. Moynihan, standing in front, made a nice move to deflect the shot past the WTM goalie. Scott Munroe intercepted a clearing pass near the blue line in the third period as he skated in before firing a low wrist shot into the net for a short-handed goal and a 3-0 victory for Andover.

Andover received solid play throughout the championship games from goalies Fred Sunderland and Phil Smith who combined in net for two shut-outs. Andover's fine showing assured them of placing as high as fifth and no lower than eighth position in the final standings throughout the state.

Pony League Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Blue and Gold Pony League baseball teams will hold their annual spring tryouts on Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. both days at Boudreau Memorial Field at Andover High.

All 13-year-old candidates should report to the field at 1 p.m. each day, while 14- and 15-year-old candidates should report at 3 p.m. each day.

If a third tryout is necessary it will be held the following Saturday, same times and site. The rainout dates will also be the following weekend, same times and site.

Both the Blue and Gold will compete in the revamped Greater Reading Suburban Pony League.

The competitive league has been strengthened even more this summer by the addition of North Andover and Winthrop.

To make way for the two new towns, Reading dropped one of its teams and Stoneham has cut back from two teams to one.

The league now consists of one 10-team division.

Other participating towns are Lynfield, Wilmington and North Reading.

A new playoff system has also been proposed and is expected to be approved shortly. Under the new format all 10 teams would qualify for the post-season playoffs, which would consist of a one-game knockout until the finals which would be a best-of-3 series.

Blue and Gold have dominated the GRPL during their four years of membership.

Each won its respective regular season division title all four years (the league had been divided into East and West Divisions).

Gold went on to win the overall league championship in both 1985 and 1986, while Blue shared the overall title with Lynfield in 1987 and won its first title outright by beating Gold in the exciting championship series last summer (6-5 and 8-5 games).

Gold also won three Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth League championships in the final four years of that league's existence before the switchover to the Greater Reading League.

This continuous success at the transitional 13-15 year old level, coupled with the spectacular performance by the Andover

National Little League All-Stars last summer, the strong showing of Andover High last spring, and the consistent play of the Andover Legion has made Andover the No. 1 hotbed of youth baseball in the state.

Gold's record over the past eight years is a composite 163-39-6, including 17-7-1 overall last year, while Blue was a superb 21-2 last summer and has won close to 100 games the past five years.

Players trying out for the Pony League will also have an opportunity to play for the regular Senior League and Senior 13-year-old League.

Blue and Gold may select between 15-18 players and all positions on both teams are open.

Andover High School ski team members capped their season at the Massachusetts High School State championship at the Berkshire East Ski area at Charle-mont. The race consisted of tough competition during one run each of slalom and giant slalom.

Amy Heislein, Amy Heseltine and Jen Colangeli raced in a field of 94 women; Jon Bicknell, Jerry Guerard, Terry Retelle, Bob Lowrey and Lance Gomes competed in a field of 105 men. The team raced under the direction of coach Dick Stevens, assistant coach George Walsh and volunteer coach Tom Busta.

Heislein and Bicknell qualified to become members of the Massachusetts team of 10 women and 10 men to compete at the Eastern High School Championship held at Mt. Snow, Vermont, March 10-12.

Strong competition was provided by top racers from Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Maine, New York, New Jersey and Wisconsin at this race sanctioned by the United States Ski Association. Friday was training day with a party for the racers and coaches in the evening. Saturday's schedule included two runs on a long giant slalom course with more than 30 gates and a dance in the evening. Sunday's event included two very tough runs on separate women's and men's courses with more than 55 gates each.

The Massachusetts women's team took second place after Vermont and the men's team placed third after New Hampshire and Vermont.

Treasure Hunt Awards Presented

The Department of Community Services held its annual Spring Treasure Hunt last week at Recreation Park. The event began with spring crafts, such as peanut butter bird feeders, spring bouquets and rabbit ears.

After the crafts were parachute games building up to the treasure hunt. The young hunters dashed through the woods of Rec Park where they gathered all kinds of prizes.

Special awards were given to children who brought decorated spring baskets and eggs from home: Jonathan Bryant, best egg in disguise; Andrea Das, most sophisticated egg; Kara Gallo, most prehistoric egg; Jessica Hardy, prettiest colored egg; Eric Jenike, best colored basket; Sara Jenike, most spring-like; Jeffrey and Jennifer Kane, best dipped eggs; Sarah Lee-man, most artistic basket; Kyle, Nathan and Vaughan MacKenzie, best magic marker eggs; Cristina Mooshian, most duckie basket; Patrick Morrissey, most sparkily eggs; Geneva Pustell, best smallest overall; Kaylan Tildsley, best bunny basket; Alex Beltz, best egg man; Travis Doucette, best clown egg.

The DCS had a busy month this March. Besides the egg hunt, the town department also organized its 13th annual elementary school gymnastics meet on March 18 at Andover High School. Physical education teachers Art Iworsley, Louise Rozzi, Jack Gleason and Beth Shiff and team coaches Nancy Winitzer and Steve Sirois helped make the meet a success.

If you didn't pick up your ribbon the day of the meet, it's available in the DCS office on Bartlet Street.

Student Loans Available

Andover Bank has financial resources of more than $2 million student loan funds available to assist in financing higher education. With escalating tuition costs, now is the time to investigate, evaluate and act upon the benefits of financial aid.

Student loans are not restricted to those attending colleges or universities. Assistance is also distributed to students enrolled in a business, trade, vocational, technical or hospital nursing school and student loans can be utilized to help U.S. citizens study abroad. Student loans are subsidized by the college itself or the federal government and have lower interest rates than traditional loans. Several educational loans are offered and students must meet eligibility requirements to qualify. The two basic loans provided by Andover Bank are the Stafford Student Loan, formerly called the Guaranteed Student Loan, and the PLUS Loan (Parental Loan for Undergraduate Students).

The amount a student may borrow on the Stafford Student Loan is determined by the year of enrollment (freshman, sophomore, etc.), as well as financial need. For the first two years of enrollment, $2,625 is presently the maximum amount borrowed per year. After the first two years and until graduation, the current maximum borrowed is $4,000 per year. For graduate or professional students, $7,500 is currently the maximum amount borrowed per year. The actual amount borrowed is determined by eligibility. The Stafford Student Loan has a current interest rate of 8 percent while the student is in school and may increase as the repayment period progresses. Payments are deferred until six months after graduation.

The PLUS Loan is a loan to the student's parents. Need is not a factor and, depending on eligibility, loan amounts can be as high as $4,000 per year. The loan has a current variable interest rate of 10.45 percent, which is subject to change each July 1. The interest rate will never exceed 12 percent and payments on this loan begin immediately.

Andover Bank also offers other educational lending options designed to ease the financial burden of continuing education. Andover Bank is conveniently located in Andover, Lawrence, Methuen, North Andover and Tewksbury. For further information, call Jackie Pollano or Rita Marshall in the consumer loan department.

Girl Scouts Beth Cummins, Jessica Vanos, Lani Johnson, Stephanie Casey and Nina Zinicola pause for a rest after moving books at the library.

Helping Hands

Last week seven girl scouts from West Middle School's Troop 664 sorted and moved hundreds of donated and library-withdrawn books into storage in anticipation of summer's annual Friends of the Library book sale. According to Friends' chairman Michael Frishman, troop leader Janice Zinicola and her scouts were searching for community service projects when they learned of the library's need.

"It really was a wonderful help to have the girls move them all," said Frishman, who oversaw the project. "It made it quick and pleasant." Helen Sellers, Jennifer Farris, Beth Cummins, Jessica Vanos, Lani Johnson, Stephanie Casey and Nina Zinicola completed their task in about an hour.

The sale will be held June 23 and 24; proceeds will help bolster the Friends' continuing support of library programs, acquisitions and museum passes.

Annual Meeting For Birders

The annual meeting of the Merrimack Valley Bird Club will be held Thursday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of McQuade Library on Merrimack College's North Andover campus.

Paul M. Roberts, founder and president of the Eastern Massachusetts Hawk Watch, will speak on "Hawk Migrations in Massachusetts." In addition to teaching courses on hawks and other birding topics for the Massachusetts Audubon Society, Roberts has served as chairman of the Hawk Migration Association of North America and the New England Hawk Watch.

The annual schedule of spring walks will be presented.

Albert Retelle of Andover is president of the club.

The Art Of The Matter

Memorial Hall Library will display the enamel art of Sister Madeline Carrabino on the first floor during April. A former schoolteacher who earned her M.A.E. from Rhode Island School of Design in 1983, Carrabino developed her specialty, which she calls "painting with ground glass," because she was intrigued by the brilliance and permanency of its colors.

"I never seriously considered the pursuit of oil painting," she explains, "but I was always interested in those executed with a spatula to achieve a raised surface. I began to use the enamels in this manner and was pleased with the resulting tactile quality, which added a further dimension of depth."

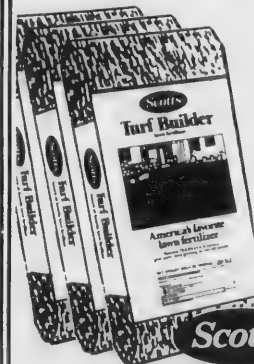

Memorial Hall Library offers a collection of original art for loan. Included are hanging works in oil, watercolor and other media; each piece, loaned to the library by the artists, may be checked out for two months at a cost of five dollars. Photos of the collection may be previewed at the circulation desk. The library also lends framed prints of works by famous artists and non-original pieces of sculpture for two months with no fee.

Odds And Ends

The Children's Room wraps up its winter/spring session of Films on Friday on March 31 with Night's Nice, A Story, a Story and Swimmy. Preschoolers and their adults should meet at the upstairs hall a few minutes before the 10:30 a.m. screening time. "Pajama Party" meets Thursdays from 6:30 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. in the Children's Room. Bedtime stories, quiet songs, games and an occasional short film will be presented free and with no registration required for children aged 3½ to 5.

Down The Years

mence the appeal immediately in view of the fact that all the ground work had already been laid. Adjutant Charles Johnston in charge of Greater Lawrence and Andover is assuming full charge of the campaign.

A recommendation that $26,000 be approved for flood control for the Shawsheen river may be made by the ways and means committee of the state legislation shortly, it was learned yesterday. The committee may suggest that the Town of Andover pay half, or $12,500, although opposition would probably arise against this plan.

If this work were to go ahead this year, the plan would necessitate the calling of special town meeting, and since the $12,500 would mean nearly another dollar on the tax rate, the chances are that it would not be appropriated. It is generally felt that the condition of the river, while it damages Andover property, is not caused by Andover but rather by other Massachusetts communities.

10 Years Ago — March 1979

The Andona Society this week announced a $1,500 gift of playground equipment for Andover Recreation Park — the former Camp Olympia — once basic work is done there by the town. Other donations are expected, recreation officials told town meeting.

Town and school officials met last Friday to consider traffic patterns resulting from the accelerated sewer construction program.

Lovejoy Road will be closed for some weeks, between Lowell st. and the Sanborn school for lesser intervals, other streets will be either partially or completely out of use, according to Supt. Donald Bassett.

The school committee voted unanimously Monday night to ask the selectmen to postpone town meeting at least two weeks, in the hopes of having a better definition of tax cap legislation.

officials, many felt this election would be different. Both challengers had a large base of political support and both outspent the incumbents almost 2-1.

The campaign had been marked with heated debate and headline-grabbing controversies more suited to big-city politics as both Danneman and Dziadul criticized the incumbents for being passive politicians and allowing Town Manager Kenneth Mahony too much power in running town business.

From the beginning, Wesson and Silverman stood behind their experience and proudly emphasized the town's accomplishments in social and capital improvement projects during their terms.

"One of the things we proved is that you can run as a team," said Silverman.

The other key to victory, said Silverman, was the incumbents' 30-year ties to the community contrasting with both challengers' relatively short residency in Andover.

Silverman had "no doubt we would win," when he saw old friends and supporters coming out to vote on Monday. "The last time Charlie and I ran, no one ran against us." The competition, he said, rallied longtime backers and brought out the vote.

Dziadul said he felt "Gerry and Charlie ran a fair-and-square campaign. But this (election) proved to me how tough it is to run against an incumbent."

The first-time candidate said "it would be premature at this time" to discuss future political plans.

"But I would be most reluctant to ever take on an incumbent again," he said.

Danneman, who was just a few votes short of winning a seat last year, has been reported as saying he would not run again.

Fishing

A variety of fish species are waiting to be caught at 31 federal flood control reservoirs in New England operated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Trout, bass, pickerel, horned pout and perch are available at most, while a few have their own specialties, such as Northern pike at East Brimfield Dam in Fiskdale.

The only requirement to fish these federal waters is a state license and adherence to state season and species regulations.

For a list of fishing opportunities, write to Sue Douglas, New England Division, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Moderator

ty challenged Doyle to run for moderator if he didn't like the way town meeting was run.

"I think Doyle is more concerned with form than content," said Doherty.

Controversy has shadowed Doyle, who records town meeting events with the help of a parabolic microphone sensitive enough to pick up conversations not easily recorded by conventional methods.

State law prohibits the use of electronic devices by private citizens to eavesdrop on others without prior consent. Doherty, who will be presiding over his 13th town meeting next week, said he didn't know if he would take action prohibiting Doyle's use of the parabolic microphone. Doherty said he would look into the matter if he hears any complaints.

personal milestones in every performance."

Keroack says those milestones come from the musicians putting out a team effort. "We've had consistent improvement in our band program. More kids are realizing that one player out to lunch can ruin the rest of the team's performance. They're beginning to say, 'Hey, if you don't work, the whole team will get nowhere.' There are no second-string players in band."

Keroack attributes much of the music program's success to greater publicity. "Positive information about band is being relayed to the public. Last week the jazz band, concert band and madrigals performed at Doherty and West middle schools...Student response was overwhelming."

Being in the school band is "losing its stereotypical image of a haven for those who are not athletically inclined," Keroack said.

"Kids receive self-discipline and confidence. It takes guts to perform in a stadium in front of 10,000 people. Performing also does something for your self-worth. Band members have a talent they can be proud of. They also have a circle of 50 to 60 close friends sharing their interest."

Band is an activity with more than just immediate rewards, according to Keroack. "I want to instill an interest in music that will transcend the actual playing of instruments," he said. "I hope that my students develop positive feelings toward music and understand what goes into being an artist...It's not always philosophy, sometimes it's just notes."

Make Your Own Book

A class called Art-making for Everyone: Simple Handmade Books provides an introduction to simple bookmaking techniques and an opportunity to generate your own words and images and put them into book form.

The course begins with directed experiments in bookmaking and ends with a project of your own choice. The emphasis is on a fun, creative experience and an exchange of ideas, said instructor Susan Gaylord.

Handmade Books is a six-week evening course held in Newburyport on Tuesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. April 11 to May 16. To register, contact Gaylord, 311 High St., Newburyport, 01950.

ing, but the town retains ownership.

Critics of the proposal are against town financial support for a private business. Neighbors also complain that the structure would disturb the aesthetics of a quiet, historical district.

Houghton took issue with the private business argument. Town hall having initiated SHED five years ago, "as far as I can understand, SHED is a town-sponsored program," he said.

Board member John O'Brien said SHED might be dropped if the article isn't passed. "You just can't end something that people have come to rely on and is a good program."

Opponents of the proposal, commented Houghton, are saying the portable classrooms "are just not pretty enough. Give me a prettier solution." That's just not right."

Five Arrested After 26-Car Burglary

By Frank Messina

Four area police departments combined forces last week to arrest five men in connection with a 26-car burglary spree in Andover and North Andover.

Less than 24 hours after locating the burnt-out husk of the getaway car, police from Lowell, Andover, North Andover and Chelmsford had placed five men under arrest, charged a sixth suspect and his alleged conspirators with crimes ranging from arson to insurance fraud and recovered $25,000 in stolen merchandise from a Lowell home.

Charged with arson, 26 counts of breaking and entering a motor vehicle and several other counts of malicious damage were James Ayoub, 18, of Chelmsford; Raymond N. Rondeau, 17, of Lowell; Ronald Ricard, 20, of Lowell and Brian G. Mercier of Lowell. David Travera of Lowell was charged with receiving stolen property, and Todd Girauard of Chelmsford with defrauding an insurance company.

All suspects except Mercier have been arrested.

Mercier, Rondeau, Ricard and Ayoub are accused by police of spending the early morning hours of March 22 in Andover, where 11 cars were burglarized before moving to North Andover and breaking into another 16 vehicles.

"They just smashed in the window and worked quick, pulling out anything that was inside," said Andover detective Donald Patullo, who worked with detective David Grant on the case.

Through a series of lucky breaks—good or bad depending on who you were—and cooperation between the four police forces, detectives were able to close in quickly on the alleged car burglars, said Grant.

Tuesday morning, the four men were spotted breaking into a car in North Andover by a witness who reported the license plate number of a red 1988 Ford Mustang to police.

Just hours later, the suspects were seen again, this time allegedly leaving a Tewksbury neighborhood as the Mustang burst into flames.

Chelmsford detectives were able to place Ayoub in the same neighborhood as Girauard, who earlier had called in a stolen car report on the Mustang.

Witnesses reported the suspects had been hanging out together in the neighborhood and later went joyriding in the Mustang. After arresting several of the alleged car burglars, police say confessions enabled them to unravel the story of the crimes.

Girauard had asked Ayoub to torch his car to recover the insurance policy on the vehicle, said Patullo.

Before incinerating the car, said the detective, Ayoub and the others decided to use the vehicle to make some money. After partying in the Chelmsford area that evening, the four allegedly headed to Andover.

Using information from the confessions, Lowell police obtained a search warrant and raided Travera's Lowell home and recovered enough merchandise to fill a U-Haul truck, said Grant.

Disasters

Visitors to the Boston Museum of Science can safely experience some of earth's most powerful natural disasters in "Nature's Fury," a new exhibit running April 4 through May 29.

An earthquake room features continuous shaking and rumbling in a frighteningly accurate simulation of the real thing.

The adventuresome can walk through a volcano exploding with smoke and lava, rumbling rocks inside the crate and a windy walk-through lava tunnel.

The exhibit also includes an ocean floor swimming with tube worms.

Jewelry

No, said Leed-Aron, her store's jewelry always comes in a Royal Jewelers' box. She also indicated the value of the stones were probably far in excess of $400.

Confronted with this information, Phillips changed his story, said Burke, telling the detectives he purchased the jewelry from a Spanish person in Lawrence for $200.

Having no proof the gems were stolen, Andover police released Phillips.

The next day, a robbery report was called in from Advanced Library Systems on 93 Main St. The owners said their safe had been burglarized, and $17,000 in family jewelry was missing.

Burke lifted several fingerprints from the safe and identified them as Phillips'.

The Andover man was later arrested at home and charged with larceny over $250.

Police say he confessed to stealing the jewelry from Advanced Library and admitted committing several other break-ins and thefts in Andover the past few months.

Four counts of breaking and entering at night with felony intent and several counts of larceny were added to the original larceny charge, said Burke.
